Mr. Roosevelt began a week ago his promised tour of the west, and has already delivered a clear and powerful address at the University of California at Berkeley. He has been everywhere a success, and his popularity is at its height. He has been everywhere a success, and his popularity is at its height. He has been everywhere a success, and his popularity is at its height.

The "regular" Republicans for two years have been threatened to read out of the old party the "insurgent" progressives; but now, in their turn, they are told that no party can harbour such men as Speaker Cannon and Senator Aldrich and live.

Very frequently birds live in more or less complete association with other birds of the same species. The ostriches in Africa and the rheas of South America commonly associate with the larger ungulates; and in the case of the latter, the ostriches are often found in the same herds.

The earliest birds were arboreal, and no doubt brooded their eggs in the holes of trees or in the hollows of rocks. The first birds to spread to open country they laid their eggs on the ground, and no selection factors came into play.

As in the reptiles, integumentary glands are practically absent in birds. The homology between scales and feathers is fully indicated by their development, and the differentiation of the scales into feathers is a very ancient feature.

THE 5 to 4 decision against a Federal tax income measure as it passed the Senate, ground that direct taxes must be levied upon individuals—although not cited now by Mr. Roosevelt, is also of course, an over-riding principle of the Constitution.

Mr. Roosevelt, both in Paris and London, was especially careful to hold aloof from the so-called "American colonies"; and at home he has avoided the often-proffered hospitalities of the "old colonies."

When your tongue is coated and there is a bitter taste in your mouth, then take Chamberlain's Tablets; they clear the stomach, purify the blood, and give you a new life.

Men of Every Trade Struggle.

Men and women of every occupation overtax the kidneys and suffer daily miseries when the kidneys begin to fail. Any work that is a constant strain on the back is bound to hurt the kidneys. The lifting, digging, and planting of farm work; the constant bending over a desk or sitting at a sewing machine; working for hours on jarring, jolting waggons; the stooped positions, and the reaching, pulling, and heavy lifting of a hundred different trades—all these are hard on the back, and must wear, weaken, and injure the kidneys, because the kidneys are in the very part of the back that feels the strain.

When the kidneys are sick every exertion sends a sharp, stinging pain through the back or loins, and you are weary and tired all the time. Many tasks, like housework, that do not require great physical strength, are very trying on the back and kidneys. That is why backache is so common. That is why so many men and women are unnaturally tired and sleepless.

Doan's Backache Kidney Pills have cured thousands of working men and women—have given them strong backs for their daily work. We would sincerely advise every man or woman whose work is hard on the back to take an occasional dose of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. They will keep the kidneys well and the back strong, and keeping the kidneys well is half the task of keeping the body well. Read the following testimony from people cured to stay cured by this grand kidney remedy.

SYDNEY PEOPLE CURED.

Here are 2 instances, no Room for more, but we have Hundreds like them :-

FROM BALMAIN.

Mr. P. Smith, 1 Cheltenham-street, Balmain, Sydney, says:—"I used Doan's Backache Kidney Pills for kidney trouble, and they worked a miracle in my case. I had been under three doctors at different times, but my treatment did me no good. I used to be so bad that I would have to be carried home on a cart if an attack came on me when working in the street. Sometimes I have been taken to the hospital when one of these had attacks came on. My wife says she thought that I would never live through some of those bad turns. I suffered with a kind of biliousness and vomiting. My secretions were very bad. I could never bend my back or move at all when I had a bad turn. The people at the hospital gave me medicine, and recommended rubbing in liniments, but it was no use. I did not benefit. I saw an advertisement for Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, and procured this remedy. I only took one box, and was cured. When I finished them I started work, and have worked ever since. It is a heavy work I am doing, but it does not affect me. These pills cured me after years of suffering, and the relief was most instantaneous."

Mrs. Smith confirms the above nine years later:—"My husband has had wonderful health since he used Doan's Backache Kidney Pills. He is well now."

FROM GLEBE.

Mr. M. J. Grace, of 192 Darling-street, Glebe, Sydney, late Parrier Sergeant of the 1st Regiment, Australian Bushmen, wrote from Kilp Drift, S. Africa, March 18, 1901:—"I am very pleased to state that we have your famous Doan's Backache Kidney Pills in the midst of our regiment. I was very much troubled in the early part of the campaign with pains all over me, especially in the back. You see, I was always trekking about in bad weather, and sleeping on the damp ground, and one would want an iron constitution to withstand the huge boots on the system. Many mornings I have tried to get up, but failed until I obtained assistance. My agony was often so bad that I have felt inclined to rush into the zone of the enemy's fire, and put an end to my sufferings. All the military doctors we treated me failed to do me any good. One day a comrade gave me three boxes of Doan's Backache Kidney Pills, and told me to try them. The first box eased me greatly, the third box completed the cure. Many of my comrades used them, and they swear by this wonderful medicine. Indeed, this testimony expresses their gratitude to Doan's Backache Kidney Pills as well as mine."

Nine years later Mr. Grace says:—"I am still quite free of kidney trouble, and have been ever since Doan's Backache Kidney Pills cured me eight years ago."

Get what you ask for. Get Doan's. Don't accept something "Just as Good." All Chemists sell Doan's BACKACHE KIDNEY PILLS, and will give you what you call for. Some may endeavour to substitute an article they make more profit on. Insist on getting the genuine, and save money and misery. Price, 2/9 per bottle (six bottles 15/3), or posted on receipt of price by Foster-McClellan Co., 76 Pitt-street, Sydney.

POULTRY.

Questions relating to fancy or commercial poultry should be addressed to "Mr. Poultry," "Herald" Office.

T.Y.—Your white birds with black legs are likely to come from the White Plymouth Rock, White Leghorns, and White Wyandottes, which are all white birds. There is something wrong with the pedigree of these birds. Your best plan will be to dispose of the birds, and to acquire a new stock of White Plymouth Rock, White Leghorns, and White Wyandottes, which are all white birds.

Old Subscriber.—Broody or other hens will always lay a broken egg when they see it either broken or broken in the nest. As soon as they see a broken egg, they will break it, and as soon as they break it, they will eat it. This is a very bad habit, and it is a very bad habit. The best plan will be to dispose of the birds, and to acquire a new stock of White Plymouth Rock, White Leghorns, and White Wyandottes, which are all white birds.

The largely-increased egg production in this State continues. The northern rivers' consignments for the season show about 25% increase from last year. The increase in the quantity of eggs produced in the State is a very good thing, and it is a very good thing. The best plan will be to dispose of the birds, and to acquire a new stock of White Plymouth Rock, White Leghorns, and White Wyandottes, which are all white birds.

It is a theory long since proved by facts that dirty or foul water will taint the eggs of poultry. It is a theory long since proved by facts that dirty or foul water will taint the eggs of poultry. THE AUSTRALIAN NAVY.

BY E. S. J.

Owing to the rigid exclusion of Asiatics and other coloured races from our shores, the British Navy has been able to perform its duties in the Pacific, and it is a very good thing. The best plan will be to dispose of the birds, and to acquire a new stock of White Plymouth Rock, White Leghorns, and White Wyandottes, which are all white birds.

The balance of these reserved lots we now offer for sale.

The splendid main road from Katoomba to Minne-Ha-Ha Falls runs right through Yosemite Park. There is an abundance of pure spring water and ever-running creeks on the Estate. THE FINANCIAL BUSINESS has been built up to its present successful position by fair and honest dealing and courteous and considerate treatment of Customers.

CARRIED ON BY OUR FIRM,

CALDWELL & WATT,

Business is conducted on very different lines to the usurious methods adopted by many money-lending institutions and individuals in Sydney. We claim that we make ADVANCES against Securities not usually accepted by Banks or Private Capitalists, at rates of interest reconcilable with the risks taken, and we aim to be a medium between the Banks and ordinary money-lenders, without any of the disagreeable practices of many of the latter.

We make ADVANCES DAILY on

Household Furniture (without possession),
Deeds of Vacant Land or Property,
Life Policies, Interests under Wills, Shares,
Live Stock, Vehicles, Merchandise,
And all reasonable Classes of Security.

These Advances are made without Registration or Publicity.

Our rates of Interest are Low, and Terms of Repayment Easy.

Our Clients deal directly and personally with the principal, and are assured of privacy and pleasant business relations.

We pay off Loans which may exist elsewhere, and place Customers on a better footing.

We submit for consideration a few extracts from many unsolicited letters received by us in the course of our business. Nearly all these letters were received when Customers were closing their transactions with us, and had no favours to ask. As all our business is confidential, we cannot publish names and addresses, but these extracts are verified on oath as genuine, and, we think, show unmistakably that we treat Clients fairly, honestly, courteously, and considerately. We challenge any money-lending concern in Sydney to publish such bona fide unsolicited evidence of fair treatment from its clients.

LAW REPORT.

EQUITY COURT.

(Before the Chief Judge, Mr. Justice Simpson.)
The case of J. J. Tyson and others v. Mrs. Tyson for access to her children. His Honor granted the order allowing her access till November 2, for which date he fixed the hearing of the suit.

BANGALOW CEMETERY.
Action against Bishop and Dean.
Mr. Harvey, instructed by Mr. J. J. Burdett (agent for Mr. P. A. La Pore French, of Launceston), appeared in support of an application for an injunction against the Right Rev. Bishop, Roman Catholic Bishop, and the Very Rev. P. Walsh, dean of the diocese of Launceston.

There was no appearance for the defendants. The plaintiffs asked that the defendants be restrained from disturbing, removing, or in any way disturbing or interfering with the remains, grave or tombstone of his father, Michael Donaghy, buried in the Roman Catholic cemetery at Bangalow. Plaintiff set out that his father, who was a farmer, and died in 1892, was a Roman Catholic, and he was buried in the cemetery, which was within the leased to remove the remains and the tombstone to some other place, and had informed him that they would be removed, and he charged that the removal would be illegal, wrongful, and improper.

powers of the State. The Commonwealth is not a mere collection of departments in which it is expedient that Australia should speak as a whole. The States are left to look after those in which it was thought that centralisation would be advantageous. In the meantime, requests for Mr. Hughes are given to the Federal Parliament, that line of division will have been abolished. The States, without the control of industrial legislation, and of the taxation of land, will have no more nervous the municipal authorities. All that they will have to manage will be the distribution of land and the control of education functions, of which they are bound to be deprived by succeeding amendments if the two proposed are carried. It may be of course that the electors come when, in the opinion of the electors, there should be only one Parliament on Australia. But before that decision is reached, it is obviously necessary to consider both the reasons for the formation of the Federal Constitution and the character of the Federal Parliament. A reader of the speeches of many Labour supporters, especially of their criticism of the judgments of the High Court, would gain the impression that the Federal Constitution is arbitrary, and was enforced on legal grounds only. The Convention debates, however, show that this is not so. Where uniformity was thought desirable, the States were the best judges of the jurisdiction of the States; where it was seen that the diversity of Australian conditions was too great for the supervision of a central legislature the powers of the States were allowed to remain in force. Where uniformity was not thought desirable, dangers have been discovered which were not apparent at first. It was thought the greater scope of the Federal Parliament would draw away the best men from the States. It has been found, on the contrary, that the difficulty of finding candidates is greater in the case of the Commonwealth than it ever was in the colonies. The size of the Federal constituencies has made elector-cleaning a task beyond the means of men who have any profession other than politics, and the necessity of temporary Federal capital has made it impossible for any but Victorian members to undertake political work without sacrificing their permanent occupation. Hence it has happened that the standard of local representation has never been as high in the Federthe Parliamentary future very uncertain. Perhaps the outstanding feature of the poll has been the interest in the liquor issue. The results of the local option poll are not available, but the voting has been heavy; and on appearances, it would seem that some electorates will be put on the "dry" list.

To-day's "Herald,"—"Life in London" this week (page 7) begins with a suggestion that the King is likely to learn more of Mr. Lloyd-George by direct personal contact in the immediate future. Sir Henry Lucy shows how the turn of the political wheel brings strange things to pass, and this is declared to be one of the strangest that the fiery Welsh politician has been called upon to experience as a matter of every-day duty. "Via America" (page 7) is the fourth of our special representative's letters written from the Mammas on his "The Pilgrimage" tour, and on the theme, "The Rockefellers" (page 7) will appeal to the multitude of fishermen who are now finding sport along our coast and round the harbours of American politics in the States from our well-informed correspondent in New York, is dealt with on page 5, and is full of interest at the present moment. Mr. Roosevelt's policy and prospects are discussed in the light of knowledge gained at first hand. "The Australian Navy" (page 5) is a sketch of the man who is building our railways all over the country, and who deserves to be studied in the light of yesterday's heavy local option vote. "Science Notes" (page 5) deals with bird life and development this week, and will contain a number of items all who are interested in our feathered friends.

The "Vend" Matters.—On Monday next Mr. Justice Isaacs will sit in Sydney in the original, as distinguished from the appellate, jurisdiction of the High Court. The delay, despite for hearing, however, is the Queensland case of Bindolph v. Henderson and Company, an action for alleged breach of contract in respect of a sale of sheep. It is thought that what are known as the "vend" cases, though it is understood that the Federal Attorney-General is anxious to press them on, there are little chance of their being heard for hearing for some months to come. The statements of defence have not yet been filed, and the only applications likely to come before the court are for directions, which will be taken in Chambers, and relate mainly to further particulars required by one party or the other. It is expected, too, that some of the cases will then they will be referred to the full Bench of the High Court.

fore the Union, and that there has been a greater than ever effort of control by an irresponsible public opinion, and that public opinion has acted, and been acted upon, by the Federal Parliament through the publication of its debates in the press. But that means of reciprocal education came to an end with the accession to power of the present Ministry. Under the new Government, the Ministry will settle the form of a bill are held in private, and their details are never published. The speeches of Opposition leaders, such as Mr. Deakin, Mr. Irvine, and Mr. Glynn, may expose defects and suggest remedies. But the Ministry of members of the majority which decides whether or not these suggestions are to be accepted are known only to those who take part in the discussions between themselves and the Ministry. Under the reign of the caucus again we have been forced into acceptance of a system of government, which is a far cry from the old way to say that the States are separately represented in the Senate, and that in the House of Representatives the people speak as a whole. The only legislative body in the assembly of Government supporters in both Houses, who settle the law as it must be accepted, is controlled by Parliament. We have maintained for the past ten years that it is unfair to judge the success or failure of the federation by the work of its first Ministers. The federation was necessary in order to give Australia a single voice in the Empire, and in order to prevent the increase of rivalry between the States. But it is eminently advisable to consider the condition of the Federal Parliament when we are asked to hand over still further powers. In its present state Australia has not a Government by discussion, but a Government by vote. The majority authority, no nation can be first-rate. We are without any of the safeguards which in other countries are thought necessary against a sudden outburst of half-instructed popular feeling, and we have the most glaring example of the use of the State equipment the Federal Parliament is barely competent for the work with which it has been entrusted under the existing

"the cherubs." Perhaps this is because of their hugeness from a physical point of view—their weight, the average of which is about the six average 13 stone. They are an Australian group, and all were trained and educated in the Melbourne districts. Four are ex-students of Trinity College Melbourne, and were trained under one warden, Dr. Leeper, who is a lay representative to this same synod. The six clerical peacocks seven university degrees—five arts and two divinity degrees. Three are fellows of the Australian College. "And they have all 'got their hair on,'" said one "admirer of the cherubs," a complimentary reference to the fact that none of the group has yet grown bald.

How Menzies are Spread—Some scraps of conversation overheard in a tramcar explain, in the opinion of "A Tram Traveller," the cause of the late epidemic of measles. It really is the greeting of a friend, a young lady, on whose face the fading spots of measles were still visible, said: "I've got my hair on." The lady then laid up for three days with measles, and this is my first day out. I feel so weak and giddy, you know." The young lady in question, he states, was quite unconscious of the fact that she was doing such fellow-passengers by travelling in such a condition. He further asks what the health authorities are doing, and why the "cherubs" are being issued for the guidance of the ignorant.

New Radio-active Mineral.—Recently an interesting radio-active mineral was discovered at Pillbara, and can now be seen at the Mining and Geological Museum, George-street, North Melbourne. The mineral consists of oxides of uranium, thorium, and lead and silicon, and contains helium and radium.

Mixed Shops—A correspondent asks, in view of the coming into force of the 22nd year of the coming into force of the Holiday Act, how it will apply to mixed shops. Business places coming under this term are those which have sundry goods for sale, some of which are of the nature of the goods of the Clothing Act, and the remainder not. In these places a partition divides the articles, so that at times one part of the establishment is doing business, while nothing is doing in the other. The goods for sale for sale. Under the Saturday Half-holiday Act the mixed shops have either to close altogether at 1 p.m. on Saturday, or else satisfactorily close that portion in which the goods are sold, not exempted in the schedule

Bishop Neilligan and family left New Zealand for England yesterday in the Teapouke, before leaving he had a long conference to resign. Before leaving he was presented with a presentation containing 600 sovereigns.

Captain Scott, commander of the Antarctic expedition, was entertained at luncheon by the Governor-General, Lord Harewood, yesterday. The Acting Prime Minister (Mr. Hughes) presided, and all the other Ministers now in Melbourne were present, as well as the Hon. J. G. Bennett (Senator Fyde), and the Speaker of the House of Representatives (Mr. McDonald).

The Treasurer of Victoria (Mr. C. Watt) left Melbourne with his wife yesterday on a fortnight's holiday to the Blue Mountains. Mr. and Mrs. Watt will visit the Blue Mountains.

The Aaron T. Danks' prize of £10, given in connection with the visit of the Australasian Antarctic Expedition, was presented to Mr. Watt, who has been awarded to Mr. W. T. Adams of the Sydney University. The prize was offered for the best paper descriptive of mining operations and metallurgical treatment of ores, and was presented to the recent institute visit to the Mount Morgan, Gympie, Main Peaks, and Great Pitman mines.

Mrs. Mary A. Cox, late mistress of the Supermarine School, left Melbourne at St. Leonards, and for 24 years a teacher in the Education Department, died at Ulmarra, Clarence River, on Tuesday. Mrs. Cox was born at Glenelg, and was married to Mr. George-street at Newtown, Grafton, Tanwarrin, and St. Leonards, retiring from the latter place about 15 months ago. The interment took place at Grafton.

Mr. Norman V. Pockley, D.D.S., died yesterday after a brief illness. He was the third surviving son of the late Captain R. F. Pockley of Lorne, Killara, and was a lecturer in the Dental School of the University of Sydney. He leaves a widow (daughter of Mr. Richard Waddy, of Morpeth) and two sons.

Mr. Martin Jordan, a very old and respected resident of the Albion Park district, died at his residence, 100 St. George's street, yesterday, at the age of 75 years, and lived in the district the greater part of his life.

THE COMMONWEALTH

Constitution.

THE POLLING.

The Liberals in the last House had a majority of sixteen. In the new House, at the time of writing, it is certain that this majority will disappear altogether. If this, however, to be remembered that the first figures are mostly from the population centres, in which the Labour vote is comparatively small. The outlying country constituency may be expected to cast a majority vote for the Liberals, and when this vote is counted there may be an alteration in the final results. Even so, however, Labour will have gained. The Government loses heavily in the Liberal Ministry. Mr. Hoggie for the Glebe, and Mr. Oakes for Paddington. Considering the type of candidate which the Labour party selected to run against him, it was thought that the Minister for Public Instruction would have held his own. Paddington was always in doubt, and the district is still undecided though from the Liberal standpoint it is to be regretted that Mr. Oakes, who deserved well of the electorate, did not reap an adequate reward for his services. In the case of Mr. Percy the result is even better than what was expected; in the case of Mr. Moore it is much worse. Newcastle, it was hoped, would be held by Mr. Gilbert, but a much larger Liberal expectation was entertained regarding Marrickville. The defeat of Sir James Graham, for Merry Hill, is not surprising. The surprising thing is that a man of the type of Sir James Graham was able to poll such a large vote in an electorate of this description. His poll is a tribute to the power of his own personality, but his failure removes from the ranks of its ablest and most successful men.

No far as the city and suburbs are concerned, Labour has won the day. This success is to be attributed, not only to the splendid organisation, discipline, and individual devotion of the supporters of the Labour party, but also to the propaganda work done by the Executive of the Labor

THE FLAGSHIP.

H.M.S. Powerfull returned to Port Phillip yesterday at 11 a.m., and left again for Melbourne at 6 p.m. This unforeseen re-appearance was due to an Admiralty order directing that a new type of ammunition should be used for trial during the forthcoming battle practice.

The flagship spent the afternoon embarking the new shell, and returning after ammunition. She will arrive at Melbourne on Sunday, due day, and this was originally intended, but she was delayed at Twofold Bay when the order was received, and returned immediately to Sydney.

ATTRACTING IMMIGRATION.

CANADIAN METHODS.
FRED ANTLER, Friday.
Mr. Duncan Patterson, Vice-President of the Promoteur Chamber of Commerce, has just returned from an extended trip in the United States and England. What impressed him most during his stay in the latter country were the very thorough methods which are being adopted by the Canadian Government to attract immigrants. He said: "I don't think I can do justice to the subject of immigration until I am able to give you some idea of the number we want, unless vigorous and exceptional steps are taken. I am anxious to see that much time and money spent in this direction would be amply repaid before long." Patterson actually saw many things so much in evidence before the public at home as Canada. He said: "Business journals devoted several columns weekly to carefully-prepared matter with all sorts of news from the Dominion, and a wide-spread read paper throughout Scotland, this information goes through no ordinary laws, but along direct to attract emigrants."

TODAY.

TRAIN AND TROLLEY.

MELBOURNE, Friday.
Speaking in the Senate to-day on the Sugar Bounty Bill, Senator Chataway declared that sugar producers here were getting little or no advantage from the duty. It was no use comparing 80 per cent. sugar with 90 per cent. white sugar. One might as well compare a horse with a cow. The Colonial Sugar Company's price for 1A sugar was £21 15s 4d. Tait's granulated sugar, 3 tins inferior, landed in Melbourne, would cost £24 15s 4d, and the Treasury got an estate of £1 a tin. "The Colonial Sugar Company," interrupted Senator Pearce, "have refused to take it." "The Colonial Sugar Company does not act like the mas in the fabric, it does not kill the goose that lays the golden egg," continued Senator Chataway. "It is the fault of the Government," he said, "that the relations between the mills and farmers," continued Senator Chataway, "has been broken up by farmers themselves." "They have been broken up by themselves. There are 12 or 14 large factories in the colony, each with a factory attached, and of the season they distribute a ton in the case of mills owned by private persons. Furthermore, it must be admitted, does not go much

FEDERAL LAND TAX.

ENGLISH CRITICISM.
REPLY BY MR. HOGGIE.
Referring to-day to the Colonial Representative British-Australasian Society, and to some of our local firms and companies in the Commonwealth, is reported to have sent from London to the Hon. Mr. Macdonald, Secretary of the Department of Lands and Colonies, protesting against the Federal land tax as being oppressive. Mr. Hoggie, in reply, said: "I am sorry to hear that the provisions of the bill could be understood in Great Britain. The tax is not in itself oppressive. It is not a tax on profits, but on value added. It is not a tax on sales over $10,000 in value heavier than any tax in New South Wales. It is not a tax on the one under notice, are made for the benefit of the State. The representatives of protests made locally from obviously inspired and interested sources."
